Graf Zeppelin Completes Round-the-World Trip

Beats Its Round-the-World Cruising Record By More Than a Full Day—First Time Weather Conditions Permit the Central French Route—One of the Largest Crowds Greet the Graf.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 4 (P).—Beating its round the world cruising record by more than a full day, the Graf Zeppelin, German mistress of the air, landed here from Lakehurst, N. J., at 8:52 a. m. (2:52 a. m., E. S. T.).

Church bells pealed and cannon boomed a salute as the huge ship, escorted by an honor guard of 12 airplanes, appeared over the city, circling the town hall before it turned back to its hangar at the Zeppelin works.

One of the largest crowds of Friedrichshafen history greeted it here, cheering madly as the ship lowered the town hall before it turned back to its hangar at the Zeppelin works.

The 22 passengers were at the windows of the ship as it came to earth, waving flags in answer to cheers from the throng below, many of whom had waited at the field all night.

With its landing the dirigible completed a round-the-world trip—Friedrichshafen to Friedrichshafen—in 20 days, 4 hours, 18 minutes. The Zeppelin previously had flown around the world from Lakehurst to Lakehurst in 21 days, 8 hours, 26 minutes, a time which was in itself a record.

The Zeppelin left Lakehurst at 7:18 a. m., E. S. T., September 1, consuming 67 hours, 34 minutes in reaching here over an estimated course of 4,595 miles, against its own record crossing from Lakehurst of 55 hours, 24 minutes completed August 19 over a course of 4,206 miles.

Eckener Not Aboard. Aboard the Zeppelin were 22 passengers and a crew of 40, headed by Captain Ernst Lehmann. For the first time in the history of the Zeppelin's major voyages, its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, was not aboard, he having remained in America on business after the world trip ended at Lakehurst.

Save for some wide maneuvering in the region of the Azores the trip eastward from Lakehurst was without special event, the ship striking for Cape Finisterre, Spain, from the Azores region, skirting the Spanish coast to Santander, and striking thence for Bordeaux, France.

It was the first time weather conditions had permitted the Central French route for the Graf. From Bordeaux the Zeppelin cruised northward across Limoges, Dijon, and Basel, Switzerland, striking across Lake Constance and toward home as the rising sun stared it in the face.

Never before have there been such crowds to greet the Zeppelin as there were today. Thousands encamped on the greensward outside the hangar, especially at places from which they might obtain a good view of the hangar. Other thousands literally walked Friedrichshafen's streets most of the night since hotels and inns were crowded and there was not a vacant chair anywhere.

All Looked Tired and Worn. After a reception in the hangar the passengers and crew were taken in gaily decorated automobiles for a parade of the little city. Only Hans Von Schiller, one of the pilots, would not go.

He had been charged by Dr. Eckener, he said, "to see the wonderful world given him by the Emperor of Japan safely home. I propose to carry it there myself."

All looked tired and worn, some of the crew even haggard. Captain Lehmann said everything worked beautifully except that he regretted having to make a long detour to avoid unfavorable winds.

This was commended by Commander Wiley and Lieutenant Mayer, the American naval officers aboard, however, who said the Zeppelin owed wonderful success to the officers' knowledge of navigation and their ability to take advantage of the favorable and avoid the unfavorable atmospheric currents.

According to Von Eschwege, a German newspaperman aboard the Graf, on the return trip we thought only of home. The world flight was a great strain. The officers and crew made superhuman efforts to accomplish a gigantic task.

"We Were" Over Chicago. Chicago, Sept. 4 (P).—The plane Chicago—We Will drowned monotonously in wide circles over the sky harbor airport today in its quest for the refueling endurance record. At 4:21 a. m. the plane passed the 251-hour mark. Russell Mossman and C. E. Steele, the pilots, must beat the 421-hour record held by the St. Louis Robin.

One Sailor Killed. Constantinople, Sept. 4 (P).—A big gun on the Romanian cruiser Narew burst during target practice this morning. One sailor was killed and five wounded.

Clarence Schoonmaker New "Y" Secretary

Assumes Duties October 1, Succeeding Secretary Porter—Schoonmaker Has Been Secretary of Gloversville "Y"—Is Former Kingston Resident.

General Secretary Clarence S. Schoonmaker of the Gloversville Y. M. C. A., has been appointed general secretary of the Kingston Y. M. C. A., and will assume his duties here the first of October. Mr. Schoonmaker has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of General Secretary John C. Porter. Secretary Schoonmaker is a former Kingston resident, and has served the Gloversville Y. M. C. A. for the past nine years.

Mr. Schoonmaker became interested in Y. M. C. A. work when a member of the local association, and entered upon his association duties when he left Kingston for the Maplewood Branch of the Y. M. C. A. in Rochester, where he was associated with Augustus Bonesteel, who for many years had been connected with the local "Y." After nine months at the Maplewood Branch, Mr. Schoonmaker was transferred to the Rochester Central Y. M. C. A. as boys' physical director. This is one of the largest boys' divisions in the country. After serving five years in Rochester he accepted a call to become secretary of the boys' work at Gloversville which at that time had a membership of 150 boys, and under his administration grew until it numbered four hundred boys.

The Gloversville newspaper in speaking of the resignation of Mr. Schoonmaker as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. there, states: "General Secretary Clarence S. Schoonmaker of the Gloversville Y. M. C. A., who has been connected with the local association for the past nine years, with a splendid record of progress and development to show for his long affiliation with the organization, has resigned his position here to become general secretary of the association at Kingston. In going to Kingston, he returns to his home city, after being engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in various parts of the state.

"Secretary Schoonmaker's record in connection with the Gloversville association is an enviable one and has been marked by steady progress and real achievement.

"One of the most notable accomplishments during his work in Gloversville is the creation of the Y. M. C. A. camp. A year or so later Camp Agamemnon was opened at Lake Pleasant and this has been gradually built up into one of the finest and most complete summer camps in this section of the state.

"Secretary Schoonmaker came to Gloversville from Rochester nine years ago last May. Prior to coming here he had served several years as physical director at the Rochester association. After his arrival here he acted as boys' work secretary for several years, and for the last five years he has been general secretary, filling the post most acceptably.

"During his labors with the local association, Secretary Schoonmaker took a keen interest in every part of the organization. It was through his suggestion that the Nick Stoner Club was organized, and through this club a large number of high school boys have been brought into intimate touch with the life of the association. His entire program has been a constructive one, and it is with genuine regret that the directors contemplate accepting his resignation."

Heat Records For September Broken

New York, Sept. 4 (P).—Homecoming vacationists longed for their recently deserted seashore and mountain resorts today as they sweltered in heat which broke all existing records for September throughout the Atlantic coast states.

From Maine to Pennsylvania along the coast and far inland came reports of temperatures ranging from 90 to 103 degrees with small prospect of immediate relief. Relatively low humidity mitigated the discomfort somewhat and no deaths were reported. Five persons were prostrated in Boston.

A maximum of 94.2 degrees in New York yesterday set a record for that date. It was the third day of a heat wave during which daily temperatures above 90 degrees were recorded. At Newark, N. J., the temperature rose to 95 degrees, making it the hottest day of the summer.

The highest temperature reported was at Lancaster, Pa., where the record for the season was equalled with the mercury at 103. Williamsport, Pa., had 98 degrees. Other Pennsylvania points reporting new heat records for the month were Reading, Wilkes-Barre and Harrisburg, all of which experienced temperatures of 96 degrees.

Maine, the Mecca of refugees from summer heat, suffered a spell of tropical weather which brought the hottest September day ever recorded there with 96 degrees at Portland and 92 at Augusta.

Upland New York felt the excessive heat with temperatures of 97 at Poughkeepsie, 99 at Elmira, and 94 at Albany and Binghamton.

In Toronto a new high for the summer was set with the mercury at 94 degrees.

Five Deaths in Middle West. Chicago, Sept. 4 (P).—A blistering sun from which little relief was promised was held responsible today for five deaths—four in Chicago and one in Sawyer, Mich.

Temperatures in the nineties were common in the middle west yesterday, Chicago having a high of 91 degrees, the hottest September in 31 years. At other places the mercury bounded up to the nineties, causing several deaths and much suffering.

"Late reports this morning," said William G. Howard, superintendent of lands and forests, "were that this fire, in the western St. Lawrence county, was not under control. It had destroyed 50 cord of pulpwood with the probabilities of greater loss before it is checked."

"A second serious fire burned in soft wood slash yesterday afternoon in the town of Putnam, Washington county. Large crews of men were fighting this fire from all sides last night in an attempt to gain control of it before morning. Another serious fire started last night near Fern Lake, Clinton county."

Other fires reported by Mr. Howard included: Saranac Valley, Clinton county, extinguished early today; North River, Warren county, also put out.

A state-owned island in Lake George, extinguished during the night. At Mountain Top near Horizon, Warren county, still blazing today.

Small fires also were reported in Herkimer, Hamilton, Greene, Rensselaer, Dutchess, Suffolk, Steuben, Allegany and Sullivan counties. Some hope arose on the part of the conservation officials upon reception of information from the local weather bureau that a broad wet

Points Mentioned By MacDonald Most Difficult

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 4 (P).—The three points mentioned yesterday by Premier Ramsay MacDonald are still outstanding in the Anglo-American naval conversations pursued in London by the premier and Ambassador Dawes are believed to consist of the three most difficult questions of all.

Such was the intimation given to an Associated Press correspondent this afternoon by reliable sources, in position to know exactly what is going on.

The information further indicated that one of the points still unsettled is the old problem of cruiser strength.

The League Assembly is eagerly awaiting word from France and Germany for their reactions to Premier MacDonald's speech yesterday.

Commentators noted that while the British premier was very warmly congratulated by the German delegation, Premier Briand of France remained silent in his seat.

Tomorrow both M. Briand and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, head of the German delegation, are to speak. What they have to say is awaited with scarcely less interest than was the speech of Mr. MacDonald.

Naval Reference Mystified. The premier's optimistic references yesterday to the nearness of a complete agreement between the world's two great naval powers was most mystifying to delegations of other countries here, and to the countrymen of the British premier themselves.

Some French newspapers, and the press of other countries, have insisted recently the conversations have not made such progress as has been ascribed to them, but from the premier's words it was gathered an accord practically was on the verge of conclusion.

League circles speculated as to the identity of the three points. The suggestion was heard that perhaps one of the three was that of cruisers—the cruiser strength of the two countries is the principal problem confronting naval agreement hopes and has because of its difficulties been a bar to material progress heretofore.

Another complicating factor was the distinctly cool tone of London and Washington dispatches regarding reaction to the premier's speech yesterday. The British press seemed to regard with surprise the broad expanse of the prime minister's hopes, and of his statement of the situation. In Washington, it was said here, officials intimated an agreement between the two countries was much further away than Mr. MacDonald had intimated.

London Press Perturbed. London, Sept. 4 (P).—The London press today showed some perturbation at the extent of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's commitments in his speech yesterday before the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva.

The Morning Post, conservative, particularly deplored that the British government pledged itself to the optional clause of the world court, the effect of which will be to submit to the international court any points of law in which there may be a serious difference of opinion between members of the league.

The Post warned that "An English king declined to kiss the toe of an emperor and that an English church refused to accept its order from a Pope. England fought not one but several wars rather than submit to any continental domination. And if at so great a cost we freed ourselves from a foreign yoke we should beware how we fall under the authority of Geneva."

Cloni Case Adjourned. The case of Amelia Cloni of Syracuse street, charged by Federal prohibition officers with possession of liquor at her place of business on August 8, was adjourned before U. S. Commissioner Connelly until September 17. Mrs. Cloni was engaged in court and asked for an adjournment.

area was moving in on this state from the west. The precipitation from that low pressure area, however, was expected to be but moderate.

Fires at Saranac Lake. Saranac Lake, N. Y., Sept. 4 (P).—District Forest Ranger James H. Hopkins, of this village, reported today that a forest fire which started last night near a Black Brook highway burned two acres of woodland before being put out by men called by a local forest ranger. A second fire starting on the shore of Hole pond, near Saranac Inn, also was fought out.

A serious fire swept through a cutting tract the vicinity of Cranberry Lake. It was brought under control at dawn after burning over fifteen acres and destroyed corded pulp wood.

Hoover Ends First Half Year As President

Washington, Sept. 4 (P).—Herbert Hoover today reached the end of his first half year as president of the United States and looked back upon a busy period that has seen weighty policies of administration enunciated and important projects undertaken, the ultimate testing of which is expected to have a significant effect on his political future.

Six months ago today the chief executive received the oath of office and without delay settled down to a quiet attention to the affairs of the nation. Keeping close to his desk, Mr. Hoover has charted the course of his administration, appointed more than half a dozen commissions to supervise new undertakings and has emerged victorious from his first conflict with the country's lawmakers.

He has instituted conversations with Great Britain which he expects soon to result in an international agreement for naval disarmament, has declared himself unequivocally for the strictest possible conservation of government of holdings and taken steps to that end and has demanded a reorganization of the Republican party in those southern states which abuses have been brought to light in the distribution of government offices.

A commission appointed by the chief executive is making a detailed study of Federal law enforcement and court conditions the scope of which includes the politically all-important subject of prohibition. Another commission is at work upon the problem of improving the conditions under which the American child is reared.

A farm relief law embodying the ideas of the president has been approved by the Congress. The Senate went contrary to the President's wishes by approving the export duty scheme. After terming the vote a menace to all farm legislation, the chief executive called congressional leaders into conference at the White House with the result that the bill, as he wished it, became a law within the week.

Under the farm law, Mr. Hoover appointed the Federal farm board which is now functioning and has determined upon a scheme for future procedure.

The President has turned his attention in other directions as well. He has asked Congress for legislation under which the prohibition enforcement agencies may be consolidated under one department, has made a start upon a reorganization of the government and diplomatic corps and has called for decreased governmental expenditures, particularly in the war and postoffice department, which he hopes will result in a reduction in Federal taxes.

He further stated that he had addressed a letter to the Public Service Commission claiming that he had tried without success to have the road to East Kingston put in condition, and he had also tried to stop illegal hacking, and that, being unable to do so, he was forced to give up the route. He further stated that he could no longer run the line at a profit and was compelled to shut down service.

The petition of Franklin A. Tigar for the consent of the city, filed April 7, 1925, sets forth that he would operate a bus line between the City of Kingston and East Kingston, leaving Kingston week days at 3:55, 7:25 and 10:30 a. m., at 2:30 and 5:30 p. m., leaving East Kingston 4:35, 8:00 and 11:30 a. m., 1:30, 4:15 and 6:05 p. m. Sunday schedule to be the same as week days with the exception of the omission of the first trip in the morning.

He further proposed to operate on the route one ten-passenger auto bus and one seven-passenger Reo touring car.

We find that the said Franklin A. Tigar has failed to comply with the terms and conditions under which the consent of the Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y., was obtained in that he has failed to operate a ten-passenger auto bus and a seven-passenger Reo touring car on the route in question at any time during the year 1929, and in that he has failed to make the trips provided for in the petition upon which the consent was granted regularly over the route in question subsequent to the month of June, 1929.

We, therefore, recommend that the consent and permission granted by the Common Council of the City of Kingston, N. Y., to the said Franklin A. Tigar, to operate an auto bus over the streets of the City of Kingston, N. Y., in connection with application and petition to operate a bus line from City of Kingston, N. Y., to the hamlet of East Kingston, Town of Ulster, N. Y., in accordance with the petition of the said Franklin A. Tigar, as filed with the Common Council on April 7, 1925, be revoked and cancelled.

Tigar Consent Cancelled. The report of the committee was approved and a resolution that the consent previously given Tigar be cancelled was unanimously adopted.

Polling Places Designated. The election committee of the common council submitted a list of the polling places for this year. The

Arab Leaders Summoned to Consider Clashes

Jerusalem, Sept. 4 (P).—Forty-eight Arab leaders from all parts of Palestine, comprising the Palestine Arab executive, have been summoned to meet in extraordinary private session in Jerusalem tomorrow to consider Arab-Jewish clashes in the Holy Land.

Publicity regarding the meeting was suppressed but in some quarters it was felt it would afford opportunity for open airing by indignant Moslem chieftains of the resentment aroused in them by certain recent events.

News of the impending meeting came shortly after it was learned here that the British government had ordered a special Palestine commission, headed by Sir Walter Shaw, former chief justice of the Straits Settlements, to make an inquiry into Arab-Jewish clashes, beginning its difficult task this month.

The decision of the British government not to permit the scope of its Palestine inquiry to extend to any question altering the Balfour declaration—that which fixed British policy at establishing in Palestine a national home for Jews—was hailed with joy by the Jews but was resented openly by Arabs.

Members of the executive have remained aloof from the British in Palestine, no leader or member having yet called upon Sir John Chancellor, the high commissioner, since his return. Sir John's proclamation, issued Sunday, in discussing clashes of the last ten days, was felt by the Arabs to be decidedly pro-Jewish and anti-Arab.

The Arab executive yesterday made public a vigorous reply to this proclamation, alleging the Palestine government had caused trouble by arming Jews, denying that there had been mutilations among the Jewish casualties at Hebron, asserting that Jewish mobs had killed isolated Arab women and children, and that even British troops had shot Arabs.

The Arab pronouncement stated that troubles in Palestine, past and present, had been caused by the British Zionist policy which aimed at "annihilating the Arab nation in its own country in favor of reviving a non-existent nation."

The Arabs demanded an impartial inquiry by "outsiders whose sense of justice was not curbed by Zionist influence." In conclusion the pronouncement demanded abolition of the Balfour declaration, suspension of Jewish immigration, and establishment of a parliamentary government.

Generally Palestine was quieter today although there still was some anxiety regarding the situation in Tiberias, upper Galilee, with which city telephone communication failed after reports of scattering Moslem attacks which caused a few casualties.

And His Name Was Hogg

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Sept. 4 (P).—Passengers said the Graf Zeppelin's immutable rule against smoking aboard or about it was broken during the Graf's flight from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen ending today.

An American passenger, Frederick Hogg by name, boasted reports were meant to be broken, and disappeared one night into the lavatory to smoke a cigar.

His action so incensed the other passengers they wanted the most severe measures taken and sought to have him locked up. The Zeppelin officers, however, were said to have refused to do this and only warned him against repetition of his offense.

Smoking aboard the Zeppelin has always been forbidden since its cells are filled with the highly inflammable and explosive hydrogen gas which could become ignited easily from a cigar or cigarette if there were the slightest leak in the balloon coverings.

Who Knows Joseph Hardy?

The police department Tuesday evening received a telephone call from New York City asking that Joseph Hardy, who operated a gas station in or near Kingston, be notified that his son was seriously injured in an auto accident in New York. Efforts to locate Mr. Hardy have so far proven futile. Anyone knowing him should communicate with the local police, whose telephone call is 1671.

Most Serious Fire Hazard In New York In 20 Years

Albany, Sept. 4 (P).—The flicker of a score of forest fires on a parched New York state landscape today brought from Conservation Commission officials a warning of the most serious general fire hazard in twenty years.

With the issuance of the warning came the word that Conservation Commissioner Alexander MacDonald was contemplating a request to Governor Roosevelt to close all forest lands to the public as a step to forestall conditions in this state familiar to those existing on the Pacific Coast and in Canada. The conservation law of the state allows the Governor to close forests "in such parts of the state as he deems the public interest requires."

The fire fighting force of the state is handicapped, officials pointed out, by at least two obstacles. The fire detection system, built about the mountain-top lookout systems, has been paralyzed to a serious degree by thick haze which cut visibility to a minimum. And although several thousand hand and gasoline water pumps are available for combating fires, fire wardens have found streams and other woodland water sources dry when their equipment was hurried to the scene of the fire out-breaks.

Commission officials said that while the fires burning today were not serious, they were concerned over the possibility of new and vastly greater fires. The most serious blaze today was reported in northwestern New York.

"Late reports this morning," said William G. Howard, superintendent of lands and forests, "were that this fire, in the western St. Lawrence county, was not under control. It had destroyed 50 cord of pulpwood with the probabilities of greater loss before it is checked."

"A second serious fire burned in soft wood slash yesterday afternoon in the town of Putnam, Washington county. Large crews of men were fighting this fire from all sides last night in an attempt to gain control of it before morning. Another serious fire started last night near Fern Lake, Clinton county."

Other fires reported by Mr. Howard included: Saranac Valley, Clinton county, extinguished early today; North River, Warren county, also put out.

A state-owned island in Lake George, extinguished during the night.

Sunburn Her Only Worry. Lynn, Mass., Sept. 4 (P).—When 10-year-old Rita Hochbaum went down to the sea, she chose an inflated inner tube in preference to the more orthodox ships. In consequence, Edward Bergin, 19, of Swampscott, had to look twice when he heard a hail for it was two and a half miles off shore and there wasn't a sail in sight. Bergin quickly brought his yacht alongside the buoyant tube and took the child aboard. A sunburn was her only worry.

Camp Happyland Children Build Unique House

The gingerbread house of fairy tale fame had little on the house that the children at Camp Happyland built and which is now on display in the window of the Rose & Gorman department store. There is not only health and happiness at Camp Happyland where under nourished children are cared for during the summer months but there is time for other things too. The children at the camp have constructed a most interesting house, principally from things good to eat. Graham crackers make up the roof of the miniature house, graham bread is used for shutters and the pathway leading to the front door is made of rice. The porch roof is supported by pillars of macaroni and window boxes of grapes contain nuts. In the front yard of the house are flowerbeds with celery and nuts to represent flowers, while a hedge of dried fruits runs along the rice pathway. For chimneys there are two inverted salt shakers. The entire layout is very cleverly arranged and attracts much attention.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Tuesday evening was good although static developed as the evening advanced. WHAS, WSAI, WLW, WCHS, WLS and WJSV were among the DX stations that were consistent performers while there was a brief period of frak reception during which WMA at Shenandoah, Iowa, was heard. It would have been possible to tune in many more stations had the radio commission silenced about 400 worthless stations instead of mixing them in where they do the greatest amount of harm. There will never be good reception again until the number of stations is at least cut in half.

Two numbers from Broadway's newest picture, "Gold Diggers of Broadway," will be heard on the Veedol program over Station WJZ and the blue network of the National Broadcasting System from 9 to 9:30 p. m., on Tuesday, September 12. Richard Maxwell, the Veedol tenor, will sing the "Neapolitan Love Song" from "Princess Pat" and the waltz song "Treasure." The Ponce Sisters, old favorites on the Veedol program, will sing "Moanin' Low" from "The Little Show." The Veedol orchestra is conducted by David Buttolph. Piquant melodies from the classics of Schubert and Delibes will be played by the Stromberg-Carlson orchestra, led by Guy Fraser Harrison, on its program of Wednesday evening, September 11, from 10:30 to 11 through WHAM, Rochester, and a coast-to-coast network of stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company.

Letter Starts Woodstock War

(By F. Gardner Clough.)
The distribution of an open letter "To the Citizens of Woodstock" signed by a "Committee of Fifty" has been responsible for an open rift between the natives of Woodstock and the artists who have developed the town during recent years.

The communication hints at "objectionable features" and that "people of good taste will go where there will be no such..." and that "a serious and unpleasant situation faces Woodstock." The writers of the anonymous letter call for action saying: "Wild parties, nude bathing, indecent dress and indecent behavior should be immediately reported by phone to Kingston-489, which is the Sheriff's office."

The immediate effect of this open letter has been to antagonize the artists at Woodstock. They declare openly that they have made Woodstock what it is today, that but for them the grocers and carpenters would be living on beggar wages, and no one would ever have heard of the dinky little village in the mountains. At the recent Maverick Festival much sport was made of the "Committee of Fifty," and talk was abroad of another committee to fight the first committee.

Hervey White, founder of the festival, tried to placate the opposing forces in an article written for the Woodstock Bulletin, in which he thanked his "rural neighbors, sponsored as they are by their pastors, Mr. Todd and Mr. Packham, for their friendly assistance and advice in an attempt to bring back an old-time festival."

But the rift exists. Newspapers have taken it up. One account said that an opposing party threatened to expose the private lives of the members of the Committee of Fifty. From observations made at Woodstock, it appears likely that the effect of this anonymous committee's work will be seen in more open abandon on the part of the summer residents; whether those who are hiding behind the anonymous letter will take further action is doubtful, for such action would expose them to the ridicule of the whole colony for a long time.

Find Wreckage Of Wood's Plane

Needles, Cal., Sept. 4 (AP)—The fire-swept wreckage of the racing airplane of Major John Wood, veteran aviator, was located 25 miles northwest of here and after Ward Miller, his mechanic, had been found wandering on the desert near Needles, today held the answer to the question of whether the pilot perished.

The ruins of the plane, which Wood was using to compete in the Los Angeles-to-Cleveland non-stop race, was spotted by air searchers yesterday with the aid of Miller.

Miller said he had leaped from the plane early Monday morning when it apparently exploded while speeding toward Cleveland. He managed to pull the rip cord of his parachute, thus saving his life.

Despite his condition, Miller went with airplane searchers and succeeded in sighting a part of the wing of Wood's plane.

Whether Major Wood was as fortunate as Miller had not been determined. It was feared, however, that he had not been. Pilots soaring over the wreck of his ship reported a mass of twisted wire and steel and charred wood.

The terrain in the vicinity of the wreck is rough and forbidding. Slightly to the east the Devil's Thumb Mountains rise on the Nevada line. Had the ship fallen among them, searchers feared it might not have been found for weeks.

A graphic story of a losing fight against the furies of a desert storm was told today by Miller as the search for the missing pilot continued over a wild and uncertain terrain.

"We had encountered a severe electrical storm," said Miller. "I awaited the signal from the Major to throw out a landing flare, knowing that sooner or later we might be forced to give up."

For many minutes we fought the elements when suddenly the ship fell into a spin. A terrific crash or explosion, I'm not sure which, threw me through the door of the cabin and the next minute I felt the cold air as I plunged earthward. Before lapsing into unconsciousness I must have pulled the chute cord.

"About daybreak Monday I came to my senses," Miller said he spent a half day searching the desert wastes for Wood and then gave up that task to seek civilization and aid in the hunt. The remainder of the day and Monday night were spent by Wood's mechanic in traversing the 38 miles between the charred wreckage of the plane and Needles.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Recipe for Chic Is "Use Fur Lavishly or Not at All."

New York—Whatever economies one may plan to practice this fall, it seems ill-advised to begin with the omission of fur. The all fur coat may of course be cast aside in favor of the jacket, or may be renounced in favor of the lavishly fur trimmed cloth coat, but a comparison of prices will leave one a little disheartened over the money saved.

Fur being so lavishly used, the only alternative is to omit it altogether if one cannot afford to use it generously. Many a smart coat is without fur, but few have fur sparingly used. Fortunately the humbler animals are far from scorned, astrakhan and lamb being particular favorites for street costumes when, if one approves striking effects, one may wear white caracul on black cloth or velvet, a fashion sponsored by Lanvin. Fur trimmings contrast rather than not, brown caracul on black having great chic.

The short fur coat, as distinguishable between the fur sports jacket, seems to carry on the late Victorian aspect now so much approved. Evening coats whether of velvet, silk or fur are inclined to shortness, and make no pretense of protecting the voluminous skirts that trail beneath them. Fur bordered jackets, for day or night are another intriguing thought while one's imagination is stirred by the luxurious fur borders which now and then appear on long circular evening gowns. Fox ranks high for this purpose, although lapin is admitted and mink accepted.

That flat furs are used in the making of hats is not surprising. Since furriers have been able to turn out coats characterized by the "dress-makers touch," and have become expert in handling pelts so that they have all the suppleness of cloth, it is not to be wondered at that milliners have daintily turned fur into such forms as have heretofore been presented in felt and velvet. The old prejudice against the fur hat on the score of its being heavy, can hardly survive since modern fur hats are fashioned of the thinnest of pelts and are anything but comparable to the cumbersome hats of another generation.

In listing fashionable pelts, one must not forget beaver, but one feels that the smartness of the pelt is perhaps secondary to its use. Line means much this season, and princess silhouettes flaring or otherwise are as important in fur as in cloth. The furs are placed low of course, but they exist. Collars are generous and there are interesting developments of the cuff and the full below the elbow sleeves.

Fur lined tweed coats have a very definite place in the mode, and are usually a unit of the ensemble. (United Feature Syndicate, Inc., 406 World Building, New York City.)

EARNMARKS OF FRAUD VISIBLE BEFORE PROOF

It was just ten years ago that the slogan "Before You Invest—Investigate" was coined and put into use by Better Business Bureaus. It has become a household phrase in many places since that time, and the National Better Business Bureau, Inc., 383 Madison avenue, New York, N. Y., announces that tangible evidence of saving the loss of many thousands of dollars for inexperienced investors is in the files of Better Business Bureaus today.

"Before You Invest—Investigate" has been more than a slogan. Better Business Bureaus have actually provided the machinery by which the inexperienced investor could investigate. Bureaus have made independent investigations of companies offering securities to the small investor, and in cases where fraud is discovered have immediately placed them before the proper law enforcing agency for legal action.

The National Better Business Bureau has just announced that while legal action is advisable and sometimes necessary the ten years of fighting fraud have proven that the most effective way of defeating the swindler is through timely publicity. Prosecutions come only after the investor's money is lost. Some times, as in the case of George Graham Rice and his "tipster sheet," the "Iconoclast," this amount runs into millions of dollars.

The Bureau points out that frequently fraud cannot be proven until large losses have been sustained. Investors of moderate experience, however, are not misled because they readily detect the "earnmarks" of fraud or extreme weakness in the company. It is the lure of quick riches that lead the inexperienced investor to yield to the high pressure salesmen and part with his savings.

The National Better Business Bureau has recently launched a campaign of publicity against frauds that rob the family pocketbook. The Bureau has proven that education of the swindler's "prospects" is the best method to combat shady schemes. Posters exhibited weekly in industries throughout the country where they will be seen and read by thousands of employees expose these schemes or warn against investing before investigating. The poster exhibited this week reminds the small investor that without experience "You Wouldn't Fix Your Own Watch"—"Be Your Own Doctor"—"Lawyer or Architect" and points out the necessity of also seeking sound advice regarding the merit and probable future value of stock offered to them before parting with money.

Consider Wines in Taverns. Montreal, Sept. 4 (AP)—Premier Taschereau of Quebec announced today that the provincial government was considering permitting the sale of wines in taverns. Under existing liquor regulations beer is the only alcoholic beverage sold in public establishments. Banners were carried in the Labor Day parade urging the change in policy.

Valuable Jewels and Clothing Stolen

Kansas City, Sept. 4 (AP)—Jewels and clothing valued at between $150,000 and $200,000 were stolen from the home of T. J. Pendergast, Democratic leader, here last night.

The thief entered the house through a second-story window and trampled seven rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendergast discovered the theft when they returned home shortly before midnight from the home of Mr. Pendergast's brother, M. J. Pendergast, who died Monday.

Much of the loot was rare jewels and fur pieces, including the $3,250 engagement ring of Miss Marcelline Pendergast, who is to marry William E. Burnett, Jr. October 15. Part of Miss Pendergast's trousseau also was taken.

Eleanor Gunn Says

Patou's dahlia shades are expected to have considerable prestige for evening gowns this winter.

Astrakhan, beaver, dyed ermine and caracul are among the most approved fur trimmings, and fur trimmings play an important part in fall fashions.

Finger tip length jackets are cited as highly desirable.

Top coats are inclined toward raglan sleeves.

Molded bodice lines and long, evenly hemmed skirts are among the accepted fashions.

Satin is lauded by all style authorities for evening.

Four inch suede belts are added to costumes of various kinds, and belts frequently occur on evening types.

Alencon lace collars are added to other lingerie effects for the winter gown which may be either black or brightly colored.

The U-shaped neckline, low at the back is the fall favorite, straight canisole tops with rhinestone shoulder straps are also shown.

The ordeal of careful fitting seems about to begin, since the smartest gowns mold the individual figure and must be fitted to it.

Grass chiffon for evening is shown, also emerald and Empire green, with bluish fir tree and bottle greens for day.

The three piece tweed ensemble is an early fall favorite.

Chenille turtlet is numbered among the long list of millinery materials.

The Lackawanna Railroad has ordered 300 all-steel box cars from the Major Car Corporation, of Passaic, N. J., and 700 all-steel box cars, 250 all-steel coal cars and two combination mail and baggage cars from the American Car and Foundry Company of Berwick, Pa.

Search For Missing Plane

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 4 (AP).—The Transcontinental Air Transport Company today suspended air travel on its line between Waynoka, Okla., and Winslow, Ariz., to place all planes at Waynoka, Clovis and Winslow in the search for the T.A.T. plane carrying five passengers which was lost yesterday somewhere west of Grants, N. M.

Los Angeles, Sept. 4 (AP).—The passenger liner City of San Francisco, with a crew of three and five passengers aboard, which left Albuquerque, N. M., at 10:22 a. m., yesterday, was missing somewhere in storm-swept Arizona or western New Mexico today.

Last reported over Grant, N. M., the big ship was headed slightly south of its usual course, in an apparent effort by Chief Pilot J. E. Stowe, to dodge a spreading storm area. It was not heard from again, although service planes patrolled east and west over the route after the transport had failed to check in at Winslow.

H. W. Beck, western traffic manager for T. A. T., expressed belief that Stowe, who is a veteran aviator and one of the highest rated in T. A. T. pilots, had been forced to land somewhere south of his route, due to abnormal consumption of fuel in battling the storm.

DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL WARD DIES IN HOSPITAL

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 4 (AP).—W. Earl Ward, a deputy general of the State of New York and one of the prosecutors at the trial of Mrs. E. S. Knapp, died at St. Peter's Hospital here today after an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Ward was stricken at his summer camp, at Piseco Lake, on Monday afternoon, was brought here immediately and underwent an operation the same night.

Mr. Ward was 44 years old, married, and the father of two children. His home was in Little Falls, and before entering the Attorney General's office nearly five years ago he had been district attorney of Herkimer county.

In addition to appearing as a prosecutor in the trial of Mrs. Knapp, Mr. Ward had conducted the investigation into the affairs of the town of Irondequoit, Monticou county, and had been assigned, last week, to investigate the alleged irregularities in the county government of Greene county.

18-YEAR-OLD STUDENT PILOT MEETS DISASTER

New York, Sept. 4 (AP).—An 18-year-old student pilot who cracked up a borrowed plane, while giving his sister a ride over their Brooklyn home was under arrest at the Coney Island Hospital today on a charge of felonious assault.

Police said Gustave Krimmer, the pilot, had completed but four of the eighteen hours necessary to obtain a private license and had no right to take a passenger aloft. Enthusiastic over his knowledge of aviation Krimmer took his sister, Azalia, 20 years old, for a flight over their home. When the motor of the plane began to sputter, presumably from lack of gas, he headed for an open lot. He landed nose first with a crash that destroyed the plane.

Krimmer suffered internal injuries and his sister several fractured ribs, compound fractures of both legs and possibly a fractured skull.

Two Boys Receive Jail Sentences

George Williams, 16, of 126 Newkirk avenue, and George McPhail, 16, of 58 Meadow street, were sentenced to sixty days each in the county jail this morning by Judge Shufeldt in police court. The two boys on Labor Day had stolen the Dodge truck of William Buser, while it was parked on Mill street, and had also taken two bicycles. The boys and truck were apprehended at Catskill and held for the Kingston police. Owing to the youth of the boys the charge against them was made petit larceny instead of grand larceny.

Flames Menace Erie Railroad

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 4 (AP).—Hundreds of acres of valuable timberland have been destroyed by a forest fire which started four days ago near Cameron, 18 miles east of here. The unchecked flames are menacing the station and buildings of the Erie railroad.

One hundred railroad employees were on the scene today with fire fighting equipment.

A second fire at Hornellville, a mile and a half north of here, which started in the rear of the Hornell Country Club, was reported under control today. More than a square mile of timber was consumed.

City Water Is Tested Daily

The city's water supply is pure and wholesome and is tested daily by the resident chemist at the filter house at Zena. Any impurities found in the water are removed before it is delivered to the mains that carry it to the city. This summer a large supply of water has been impounded at Cooper's Lake. The building of the large dam there increased the capacity of the watershed materially. Kingston is probably the only city in the state that is now assured of a plentiful supply of water. Owing to the drought but little water is being carried in the streams that flow into the lake. All over Ulster county there is reported a scarcity of water, and in many places wells are reported running dry.

OFFICIAL OF ZEPPELIN COMPANY ROBBED OF $100.

New York, Sept. 4 (AP).—Dr. Alfred Bauer, an official of the Zeppelin Company, complained to police today that two chance acquaintances had robbed him of $100 in a beer garden.

According to Bauer, who speaks but little English, he visited a beer garden at the suggestion of his two newly made acquaintances. After a short stay there, he said, the two men suggested a visit to a place in East 75th street—he was not sure of the address—where beer of better quality could be procured.

The German said his companions made a show of force in the second resort and demanded his money. He said he gave them $100. The robbery victim said he was awaiting the return to this city of Dr. Eckener, Zeppelin commander, who is visiting Cleveland and Akron, Ohio.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 4 (AP)—Extreme nervousness characterized trading in today's stock market, which ran into a storm of selling in the morning and then rallied briskly after mid-day. Early declines ranging from one to 16 points in the active issues were substantially cut down, and a sprinkling of specialties marked up 4 to 5 1/2 points to new high records.

Credit conditions and prospects were the disturbing factor. Call money renewed unchanged at 3 percent but hopes that the return flow of Labor Day funds would cause a reduction in the rate began to look more dubious as the session wore on. Wall street is still uneasy over the possibility of a higher Bank of England discount rate tomorrow, and the possibility of further action by Federal Reserve authorities to restrict the flow of credit into speculative channels. Fears are also entertained in some quarters that the mid-month credit pinch will be unusually severe, and that the terms of the new government financing will provide little incentive to bullish enthusiasm.

Trade and business news continued generally favorable. Iron age reported that August pig iron production was the largest on record for that month, but called attention to a further tapering in pig iron and steel output in the first part of September, although the rate of operations shows little change. Sears Roebuck reported an increase of 21.2 percent in August sales over the same month last year. Directors of the United States Tobacco Company raised the annual dividend from $3 to $4.

Early selling was most effective against some of the high-priced issues which recently have recorded sharp advances. Auburn Auto broke 10 points, American Machine and Foundry 8 1/2 and Allied Chemical, Atchison, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, United States Steel, Common, United States Industrial Alcohol, R. H. Macy, American Water Works, Johns Manville, North American, Chesapeake and Ohio, Western Central, and Stone and Webster all sold 4 to 8 points lower. A brisk demand for Radio, which was run up more than 7 points to 105 1/2, the highest price in several months, was the feature of the early afternoon rally. General Motors also was heavily bought, touching 75 for a gain of 3 1/2 points. Dupont, American Rolling Mills, Reading and Southern Railway advanced 5 to 7 points to new high records.

Forstmann Buys Big Motor Yacht

Kingston, Sept. 4 (AP).—Hans Forstmann, textile manufacturer of New York and New Jersey, has purchased from the Friedl-Krupp Company, a subsidiary of the famous Krupp works at Essen, a motor yacht said to be one of the largest, fastest and most modernly equipped in the world.

The Orion is 333 feet long, almost 40 feet wide, and has a displacement of 3,400 tons. It is powered by two eight-cylinder Diesel motors with a total of 3,600 horsepower and has achieved a speed of 15.5 knots. Lloyd's, the internationally known marine insurance company, rates the vessel at 100 A-1.

The yacht was built at a cost understood to be $1,000,000, according to general plans outlined by Mr. Forstmann, but the details were left to the Krupp Company. Director Schroeder told The Associated Press:

"Forstmann's wishes ran counter to many accepted standards of yacht building, but for that very reason fascinated us. We were determined to give him what he wanted, and we now admit his plans have been revolutionizing."

Mr. Forstmann expressed himself as gratified with the results obtained by his plan of giving the company an absolutely free hand to work out their ideas in accordance with his general wishes. He said he planned a visit to Scandinavia, after which he would take the Orion by way of Spain and the Azores to the United States and later would make a cruise around the world, followed by shorter cruises to Africa, South America and Alaska. Something of the specifications of the yacht may be learned from the following excerpts from the letter in which Mr. Forstmann first outlined his wishes:

"The accommodations I desire for myself and guests include eight double and two single staterooms, each with private bath, a very comfortable owner's cabin on the upper deck, with two bath rooms, a ladies' dressing room and a morning room. "The dining room should be so situated that there is a minimum of vibration, and the owner's and crew's galleys should be separate. I want also to have an observation room, a smoking room, a music room, and a library and writing room. In addition I would like to include a gymnasium and a swimming pool.

"There should be good and spacious promenade and sun decks, and every attention should be paid to excellent ventilation, storage and refrigeration facilities. The ceilings should be sufficiently high and the officers' and crew's quarters should be carefully and comfortably arranged, bearing in mind that the yacht will be used very often for cruises in the tropics. She should have the most excellent radio equipment both for sending and receiving. "In effect, I may say that I want to have a yacht which will be an example of efficiency and comfort, and which in everything will reflect good taste and an absence of all gaudiness."

The radio cabin is equipped for sending and receiving messages 3,000 miles in the day and 6,000 miles at night and for tuning in on programs from all parts of the world, conveying them to the guests through a loudspeaker in the music salon.

The Orion was accepted from the Krupps by Mr. Forstmann in the Baltic Sea off the coast of Denmark in the presence of Walbridge S. Taft, president of the American Club of Berlin; several American newspaper correspondents; representatives of the German navy and of the Krupp works, and other invited guests. While the band played the American and German national anthems, the German flag was hauled down and the Stars and Stripes unfurled at the masthead as a symbol of the passing of the yacht into American ownership.

At the meeting held Tuesday of the committee of arrangements for the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, September 15-20, there were present: Edgar J. Dempsey, Kenneth Wood, representing Kingston Dry Dock, John Milbrandt, and Thomas J. Comerford.

Mr. Wood reported for Mr. Schoonmaker that a sign "Welcome-Kingston" would be installed at the Day-boat Landing at Kingston Point. Mr. Comerford reports progress as to the pamphlet and will decide definitely within a day or so regarding it. He also reports that he has under way a list of the committee to meet the convention at its arrival and has also arranged for the lighting of the park.

A motion was made and seconded to give the Mayor authority to employ a band of twenty-five pieces for $125 to provide a concert and music for the evening of the 18th.

A meeting of the committee will be held September 9 at 10 o'clock at the Mayor's office.

Love Must Be Present
To find the ideal life in the normal, you must do two things: Get rid of the world in your heart, and get rid of self—of thinking of yourself. One thing is useful, only one, and that one thing is love.—Stepford Brooks.

Hercules Win First Game Of Industrial Series

Excellent pitching by Ken Best, who held the Gascons to five singles, enabled the Hercules to win the first game of the Industrial Baseball League series by a score of 4-1, in a game marked by many errors. Tuesday evening at the Athletic Field before a very large crowd.

Best was master of the situation in every inning except one—the fourth—when the Gascons bunched four of their five hits to score four runs and then they were aided by two costly errors.

While Best was holding the Gascons in check his teammates were hitting Doyle quite freely, connecting safely for 11 hits. Doyle was not given the usual good support the Gascons give, seven errors being chalked against them.

Every Hercules player except Best himself connected at least once for a safety. H. Hotaling, Niles and Peterson getting two, while Dulin poled the longest hit of the game, a triple, coming with three men on the sacks.

The Powdermen surely did get the breaks in the first inning. H. Hotaling was safe on Flanagan's error and reached second when Hoffman threw wild to catch him off first. Niles singled, but Hotaling was held at third.

On a fielder's choice Hotaling was tossed out at home. Sickler to Hoffman, Peterson being safe at first. E. Best then laid one in front of the plate and Hoffman booted it and after getting it held it long enough to let both Niles and Peterson cross the rubber.

J. Hotaling started the second inning with a single through the infield. After K. Best fled out H. Hotaling singled to right field and Niles was given a walk to all the bases. Joe Dulin then obliged with a long triple to right field, sending the three runners home and scored himself when Sickler made a low throw to Flanagan at third, giving the Powdermen a six-run advantage.

Hits by H. Hotaling, Peterson and E. Best netted the Powdermen another run in the fourth.

The best the Gascons could do with Best's offerings up until the sixth inning was a scratch infield hit by Black, which came in the first inning.

Doyle gave the Gascons a life in the sixth, starting it with a single to left field. He didn't linger on the bases long as he was thrown out at second when Hoffman bunted, Hoffman reaching first base on the play. Flanagan singled to center field and Hoffman trotted to third. Flanagan then stole second and scored later with Hoffman on J. Hotaling's error of Black's last strike. Wood hit another single to center field and Sickler raced across the plate when Dulin let the ball get by him.

Hits by Niles and Peterson, a sacrifice fly by Dulin, a hit batsman and two errors by Black gave the Powdermen two more runs in their half of the sixth inning.

Peterson and Niles scintillated in the infield for the Hercules.

Doyle tried to do the iron man stunt by pitching with a day's rest, but didn't fare so well. Best also had but a day's rest.

Smith made the best play of the evening when he raced to deep right field to grab Van Ellen's high fly.

Black and Hoffman were way below par on the defense. Black committing three errors and Hoffman two.

The big crowd behaved well around the third base line, but they could have done better on the first base line.

The next game is scheduled for Friday evening.

Odds Still Favor Bobby Jones

Pebble Beach, Cal., Sept. 4 (AP).—The boys have come out of the qualifying trenches, a trifle buffeted, and it's a man-to-man battle from now on for the amateur golf championship of the United States.

Led from the wind-blown hazards of Pebble Beach by Bobby Jones and Gene Homans, who tied for medal honors with 145, one over par, in the 36-hole qualifying skirmish, the 31 survivors were paired for the elimination match play today. Two 18-hole rounds faced the reduced field of title contestants which by nightfall will be abruptly paired to a select eight for the quarter finals tomorrow over the 36-hole route.

Although outplayed first by college boy from the University of California at Los Angeles, Gibson Dunlap, on the opening day of the qualifying competition, and then held to even terms after 36 holes by another collegian, Eugene V. Homans, of Princeton, Bobby Jones began the main struggle for the defense of his crown without any shift in the odds in his favor. The champion drew the young Omaha star, Johnny Goodman, who qualified with 157, for his first round opponent, with the prospect that he would be called on in the afternoon to battle the long-driving California entry Phillips Finlay, hero yesterday of as dramatic a comeback as the qualifying round has ever witnessed.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

With the two pennant races settled beyond the doubts of even the most hopeful Pirate and Yankee supporters, the Cubs and the Athletics now turn to a pursuit of the mathematical certainty through the stretch. The chase should not be long.

A survey of the standing of the clubs shows that the Cubs need six more victories and the Athletics eleven to assure another Chicago-Philadelphia world's series even in the face of a possible clean sweep by the runner-up clubs. The Mackmen have twenty-three more games to play and the Bruins twenty-seven.

Since a defeat for a second-place team also counts toward the victories needed by the leaders, neither of the coming champions should require more than ten days or two weeks at the most to settle the argument. It is the first time in many years that both races have been in line for such early decision in the same season.

Neither Connie Mack nor Joe McCarthy is disturbed greatly over the question of winning 100 games. Both would like to do it. And both still may, but each puts the winning of the pennant far above any mere race after records. No National League winner has had 100 victories since 1913 when the Giants won handsomely, but the last two Yankee teams have gone above the century.

When George Earnshaw finally speared his twentieth victory at Philadelphia yesterday by 19 to 2, with the Yankees on the receiving end, he placed his team just fourteen and one-half games to the good. He also clinched the season's series against the champions, as the third straight in the holiday engagement gave the A's a record of twelve games won and only eight lost in play with the Yanks, with just two more to be decided.

Jimmy Dykes and Max Bishop helped Earnshaw with home runs, and Gehrig contributed his twenty-ninth to the New York cause. After Pippas and Sherid had been knocked from the picture, Walter Hoyt pitched four good innings, marked only by Bishop's homing, the eighth, Earnshaw's twentieth victory, long sought, gave him the honor of being the first major leaguer to reach that figure this season.

With nothing whatever at stake, the Red Sox and the Senators played a spirited game at Boston, with the Senators on top by 10 to 5 at the finish. The victory gave the Washington clan the edge in the series by two games to one, with one more decision to be reached today. The game was won by Joe Judge, who hammered one of Ed Morris' fast ones into the left field bleachers with two on in the sixth to give Washington the runs which ultimately won.

Fred Marberry got credit for the victory, but gave way to Garland Braxton with three on and one out in the ninth. The Red Sox had reached Marberry for three runs in the eighth. Braxton put down the ninth-inning threat with a loss of only one run.

All of the National League clubs spent the day recuperating from the effects of an active holiday. The Cubs and the Cardinals had intended to go to St. Louis to play off a postponement, but an inspection of attendance figures at recent games led Sam Breadon to decide in favor of a double-header today.

NATIONAL MEN'S SINGLES

AT FOREST HILLS SATURDAY.

New York, Sept. 4 (AP).—The draw for the national men's singles scheduled to start at Forest Hills on Saturday was announced today by the United States Lawn Tennis Association with eight Americans and six visiting players in the seed list. Ninety entrants will contend for the title which Henri Cochet abandoned. Nineteen in each half drew byes, leaving fifty-two players to engage in twenty-six first round matches.

Nine of the fourteen seeded players drew byes. The seeded list follows: Upper half—William T. Tilden, H. John Van Ryn, Grange, John Does, Santa Monica; Berkeley, Bell, Dallas; Henry W. Austin, England; Tamio Abe, Japan, and German Upman, Cuba; lower half—George Lott, Chicago; Gregory Mann, Newark; Frederick Mercer, Bethlehem, Pa.; Francis T. Hunter, New York, and E. R. Avery, John S. Oliff and Norman G. Farquharson, England.

Seeking his seventh title after failing to win since 1925, the invincible Tilden, at the top of the upper half, drew a bye on the first round. He is scheduled to meet Donald Strachan of Philadelphia and Princeton in the second round. The schedule of play for Saturday has not yet been announced, but many of the leading players who drew byes doubtless will be seen in their second-round engagements.

The tournament committee plans to run off all first and second round engagements not later than Monday, leaving the field to thirty-two contenders for the fight through the stretch.

Scores of the Pan-Am Games

The Pan-Am's victory over the Saugerties Bushwicks Sunday was an overwhelming one for the final score was 13 to 1. Again on Labor Day these teams met and the Pan-Am's gave them the short end of the score the second time, 4 to 3. Both of these games were played on the Saugerties diamond.

The Pan-Am's were playing in top-notch form. Their hitting and fielding was as good as any semi-pro team's in this section, and the Saugerties team realized this fact. In the game Sunday afternoon the Pan-Am's got off to a flying start, gathering 10 runs in the first inning. They banged out as many safeties and three pitchers were the victims of their steady slugging in the first inning.

In the first inning 14 men went to the plate and among the 10 hits was a triple by Knight with two men on. Lay hit for four bases with three men on.

Again in the eighth Lay hit for the circuit but this time he crossed the plate alone. In the third inning the local oil men collected three more hits and two runs crossed the plate.

The Labor Day game was a nip and tuck battle. Although the Pan-Am's lead all the way through the battle they had a hard time doing so. In the last inning the Saugerties team tried hard to stage a comeback but failed.

Senate Almost Equally Divided
On Tariff Bill

Washington, Sept. 4 (AP).—Almost equally divided on the pending tariff issue, the Senate was called together today from its summer recess to tackle this last and perhaps most controversial of President Hoover's recommendations to the extra session.

Last-minute conferences of the contending factions showed the western Republican independents, headed by Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska, virtually holding the balance of power. The Republican revolvers expect almost solid support from the Democratic minority in their fight to continue the tariff revision solely to agricultural products. A close-working coalition of these groups may give them a majority over the Republican regulars, who favor a general upward tariff revision.

There will be some other business but the plan is to sidetrack all but emergency matters in the interest of the tariff. Mr. Hoover has a batch of important nominations, including the members of the newly-organized Farm Board, but little apprehension is felt by the administration over the quick confirmation of these.

Almost forgotten in the concern over the tariff, the unfinished business of the Senate today was the resolution of Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, to carry out the recommendation of the President for appointment of a joint congressional committee to consider a reorganization of the prohibition enforcement agencies under the Department of Justice. If opposition develops to this, however, it is believed it will be withdrawn in favor of the tariff.

The Republican independents today were to draw up their plans. They reported that they were as militant as last June, when they lost by only a single vote the Borah resolution proposing to confine the tariff revision to agricultural products.

It appears certain the first test of strength in the tariff contest will come late this week or early next week on a new attempt to put the Senate on record for tariff revision for the former alone.

Senator Thomas, Oklahoma, a member of the Democratic group on the finance committee, will offer a motion to strike out of the tariff measure all rate revisions except those applying to the agricultural duties.

There is some dispute among the parliamentarians as to whether such a motion is in order. But there are indications that if Thomas is put aside by the rules that Senator Borah will counter with a motion to recommend the tariff measure to the finance committee with instructions to confine the rate revisions to farm products.

The Republican independents are hopeful of winning a vote or two and thus reversing the roll call of 39 to 38 by which the Borah resolution for farm tariff revision alone was defeated last June.

However, regardless of the outcome of the effort to put the Senate on record again for farm tariff revision, there appears to be no escape from consideration of hundreds of various rate schedules.

If the Republican Independent-Democratic coalition wins in its drive for limiting the tariff revision to agricultural products, the Republican regulars are expected to counter by offering their other tariff proposals as individual amendments.

So many weeks of work are ahead. The most conservative estimate is that at least two months will be required for completion of the tariff debate.

Dear Sir:

Although it is not a certainty that all of the 15 cruisers authorized by Congress will be built or even started, doubtless part of this program will be carried out and it so the names for these vessels will be selected soon after they are taken in hand.

It has occurred to me that Kingston has never, so far as I am aware, been borne by a ship of our Navy and it is certainly time that the old town has this honor. Without drawing definite comparisons, other places "I far less historical importance have been so remembered, and a campaign started by "The Freeman" and some of Kingston's influential citizens would certainly carry weight in high places.

I leave it to you to bring together the facts and data, merely mentioning the service of Commanders Schoonmaker and McEtee as a nucleus.

Yours very truly,
TOWNSEND J. SMITH.
